How To Level Up Your Contouring

If you want to go all-out like your favorite beauty influencer, level up your contouring by following these steps.

1. Prep the Skin

“Your makeup will apply much better and provide longer-lasting performance if you incorporate a great skin care routine,” says Fortier. First, exfoliate the face with an AHA/BHA cleanser to slough off any lingering dead skin cells.

Then apply your typical skin care routine. You can add an antioxidant-rich vitamin C serum to protect against the elements, and then an SPF for added sun protection throughout the day. Pro tip: If your skin still looks dry and flaky under your makeup, try this easy towel trick from TikToker @roseandben. Right before you apply your foundation or CC cream base, prep the skin with a primer. “I recommend using a primer to ensure your look stays in place but it also helps create a buffer between your skin care and makeup effortlessly so the skin looks flawless,” says Fortier.
