“This translucent finishing powder is my secret weapon for keeping skin looking flawless and is the perfect product for seamless touch-ups throughout the day. My biggest professional tip is to apply a very thin application of the finishing powder after priming the skin and before foundation. Then lightly set the face in the areas needed with additional powder after applying your foundation. This additional step will work overtime to absorb oils and sweat during the summer heat. I love that it sets the makeup but doesn’t dull down the natural glow of the skin. This finishing powder can also be used by all skin tones making it an easy must-have item for everyone!” Kristen Fortier, makeup artist, said.
