- The earbuds have a light that lights up when charging. The earbuds turn off when fully charged. The earbuds may charge at different rates for left and right sides.

Let's Get Started | Pairing

In order to get started using the Pump Air X2, we need to pair it to your phone.

- Please remove both earbuds from the charging case, and put them in your ears.
- 2. After a few seconds, they will play a sound in each ear, to let you know that both are connected.
- 3. When the earbuds turn on for the first time, it will go into pairing mode.
- 5. The earbuds will auto-reconnect to your phone whenever you take it out of the charging case, and power off when you put it back in.
- If you need to pair with another phone, please turn off Bluetooth on the connected phone.

The ear buds will say "No phone connected" followed by "Pair me."

4. Now search your phone for 'BlueAnt Pump Air X2' and pair.

Now select the "BlueAnt Pump Air X2" on the new phone to connect.

Let's Get Started | Fit

To ensure the best sound, you need the best fit. Having the best fit creates a seal and enhances the bass performance.

The diagram on the right, is how the earbuds should sit in your ear. We have included 4 sizes of ComfortSeal tips (x-small, small, medium, large), and 3 sizes of ComfortSeal Plus tips. so you get an even more snug fit and to ensure the earbuds never fall out. It's best to try out each of the sizes to get the best fit.

Electromagnetic Interference

Nearly every electronic device is susceptible to electromagnetic interference (EMI) if inadequately shielded, designed, or otherwise for electromagnetic compatibility.

Similiar to a mobile phone, your BlueAnt device is a low power transmitter/ receiver and is covered by regulations in any facility where posted notices instruct you to do so. • These facilities may include hospitals or health care facilities that may be using equipment that is sensitive to external RF energy.

 When instructed to do so, turn off your BlueAnt device when you board an aircraft. Any use of a mobile device must be in accordance with applicable laws, regulations and airline crew instructions.

- Some Bluetooth devices may interfere with some hearing aids. In the event of such interference, you may want to consult your hearing aid manufacturer or physician to discuss alternatives.
- If you use any other personal medical device, consult the manufacturer of your device to determine if it is adequately shielded from RF energy. Your doctor or physician may be able to assist you in obtaining this information.
  - If you are in doubt whether your BueAnt device or mobile phone can be safely turned on or used, please consult an authorised person in the location you want to use your BlueAnt device. If no authorised person is available, or you remain uncertain, BlueAnt recommends that you turn off your Bluetooth device and any mobile phones unless they are required in an emergency situation.
